Montréal, (QC). H4G 1K3

Junior web developer in Montreal, QC, finishing the Web Design Specialist program at Vanier College.

My current focus is backend-oriented development using Python and Django, with a particular interest in building APIs and CRUD-based applications. While backend work is where I'm most comfortable, I'm open to learning across the stack and exploring any opportunity that encourages growth.

I'm actively seeking a winter internship starting early 2026, where I can contribute to real projects, learn from a collaborative team, and gain hands-on experience.
